It is important that transfer students specify the number of clock hours corresponding to each of their incoming credits. By clock hours we mean the time spent in medical school in lectures and laboratory work, excluding the fraction of credits devoted to personal study.

The scoring system of the incoming university needs to be clearly specified.

Important notice: transferring candidates should note that pursuant to Humanitas University regulations, there are propaedeutic exams (see table 3) which must be passed in order to gain access to the third year (see table 3).

Table 3. Propaedeutic exams to enrol to 3rd year

To enrol to the:	The following exams must have been passed:
3 rd year	Building Bodies: from gametes to organs Body architecture The cell: molecules and processes Principles of the living matter Body at Work 1 and 2

Provisional acceptance of application: candidates completing their exam session by the end of July and/or September can provisionally apply for transfer but they must clearly specify which exams need to be completed after the application deadline. When new exams are completed the updated transcripts must be sent to international.office@hunimed.eu

A slight credit/clock hour deficit may be accepted if the study programs closely match in content. In such cases, once the student is admitted, an additional evaluation may be requested for a limited number of subjects in order to be granted access to the specific examinations of the admission year.

Language requirements

- A good command of English is required: a language assessment test will be conducted by means of an interview.
- Non-Italian students must be able to speak Italian from the beginning of the third year when the professionalizing activities begin; a language assessment test will be conducted by means of an interview.

Candidate evaluation

Based on the evaluation of admission requirements a ranking list will be generated. The ranking list will also take into account the score of exams taken. The evaluation process will be finalized with an interview with the Dean of the Medical School.
